MSES FuelEd fourth grade goes hunting ...

Ms. Goldman captured a screenshot from her Wednesday, Oct. 14, FuelEd connection Google Meet. She says she tends to see high participation from both cohort and FuelEd students, which is great for building class camaraderie!

The class ended their circle with a fun scavenger hunt! An example was, "Find an object that begins with the letters 'sh'". The final prompt was to find an object that rhymes with "can." Check out the picture — almost all of them returned brandishing frying pans!

Important dates

Thursday, Oct. 22:

12:30 p.m. dismissal; afternoon conferences, all buildings.

Friday, Oct. 23:

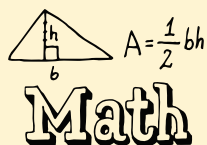

Conferences; no students in class, all buildings.

The team with vision

MSES staff Lindsay Hammel, Christi Marquardt and Carrie Dunlap, members of the Capital Improvement Visioning Team, gather around a game board of Manitou-opoly. The team is a part of the Master Facility Plan; and will help decide how to best maintain the district's facility assets and honor the rich traditions and spaces of the schools, while also looking to the future.

FREE math support available for all levels

Free math support is available to all students ... remote, in-person, hybrid and FuelEd, elementary through high school. Check out the links to these services!

MSHS gifted and talented

Mrs. Litzelman's teacher cadet students have spent the last six weeks learning about growth and development (physical, cognitive, moral, social), and what our learning looks like at different stages.

They just completed lifeline projects, where they apply the concepts to their own lives, and track their learning development over time.

Pictured is senior Lauren B's lifeline, depicting her growth and development with a unifying theme of music.

Gone fishin'

MSMS Secretary Lynda Strickland decorated Principal Dustin Cady's door to celebrate his birthday. The Boulder, Colorado, native loves to go trail running and fly fishing on the weekends, so Lynda included a map of Red Rock Canyon trails, various types of fly fishing flies and lures, and a 3-D fish fighting a glowing lure in the door's decoration theme!
